

GLOCESTER HERITAGE SOCIETY

HOLIDAY EDITION

The Gloucester Heritage Society sponsored Peddler's Faire on November 19th. Although the day went slowly at times, I think most of the vendors did well. The GHS had a bake sale on that day as our fundraiser realizing of profit of $113.00 and from DVDs and merchandise $91.50. Not bad for one day.

On December 1st, 8th and 15th The Gloucester Business Association, GHS, merchants and businesses will be hosting the Annual Candlelight Shopping nights. Our vendors will include candles, Lightning Ridge Farm Honey, Rhody Warm woolen products, Entwistle Woodworking, children's clothing, Evelyn Ledoux and her Christmas ornaments and dolls, plus Dick Martin, local author of "Mae" and other local histories. On December 8th Marge Swift has arranged for Rona Mann, author of "Tell Me Your Story," that relates our veterans' experiences during WWII, Korea and Vietnam, to be at the Job Armstrong Store for a book signing.

We are encouraging our members to stop by during Candlelight Shopping and shop local for your holiday gifts.

Happy Holidays
